Well, make your way down to the Eugene O'Neill Theater Center's Rose Barn Theater for its Cabin Fever Music Series, 7-10 PM, Monday, May 3, featuring The Silos, heralded at their outset by Rolling Stone as "America's Best New Band, this tireless trio continues to prove their mettle with a mix of punk, roots, rock, and sage art-damaged truth telling". The band is comprised of Walter Salas-Humara on lead guitar and vocals, Rod Hohl on bass and Konrad Meissner on drums. $5 suggested donation; beer and wine available for purchase,

Join us for a great evening of music, entertainment and casual fun on the O'Neill's National Historic Trust registered Waterford campus. The O'Neill is located at 305 Great Neck Road, Waterford. For more information, call (860) 443-5378 x230.

The Eugene O'Neill Theater Center, founded in 1964 in honor of Eugene O'Neill, America's only Nobel Prize-winning playwright and four-time Pulitzer Prize winner, is America's preeminent organization dedicated to the development of new works and new voices for the American theater. It has been home to more than 1,000 new works for the stage and 2,500 emerging artists. Scores of projects developed at the O'Neill have gone on to full productions at other theaters around the world, including Broadway, off-Broadway and major regional theaters. In addition to NPC and NMTC, O'Neill programs include: National Puppetry Conference, National Cabaret & Performance Conference, National Critics Institute, and National Theater Institute, which conducts semester-long, fully accredited intensive theater training programs and Theatermakers, six-week accredited summer program. In addition, the O'Neill owns and operates as a museum the Monte Cristo Cottage, a National Historic Landmark and the childhood home of Eugene O'Neill. The O'Neill has received a Tony Award, the National Opera Award, the Jujamcyn Award for Theatre Excellence and the Arts and Business Council Encore Award.
